NYC landmarks: Never been to New York? Then we do encourage being a tourist and visiting those landmarks so familiar from films and TV shows. We're talking The Empire State Building, Statue of Liberty, the Guggenheim Museum and more.

Hidden gems: If you're after something a little different though, then there's no better way to explore hidden New York than with LOCALIKE New York. After a short series of questions about your personal preferences (say if you enjoy shopping, antiques, specific foods etc), it gives you a comprehensive itinerary which fits in perfectly with the amount of time you're in the city. We loved the recommendations of antique markets and secret ancient baths. Personal itineraries start at $79 (approximately £59) for one day,
